Reducing your fleet costs and saving you and your drivers' time

Fuel costs continue to escalate and can account for as much as 25% of your fleet expenditure. Fuel cards are a simple, effective way to control this cost while minimising paperwork. Arval are the leading fuel card supplier to the public sector and in total, have over 1.1 million fuel cards in circulation.

Nationwide availability with MonitorCard

MonitorCard can be used at 95% of the major UK filling stations where the AllStar logo is displayed. This includes all the leading fuel brands as well as low-cost supermarket sites. With such a large network of fuel stations to choose from, drivers can avoid wasting time and fuel looking for somewhere to fill up.

The cost-saving alternative to pay and reclaim

MonitorCard reports give you the actual fuel cost per mile, so if you are currently using a fixed reimbursement rate, you could save on business travel costs by paying staff the actual cost of fuel instead of a more expensive fixed pence per mile rate.

Easy capture and processing of business and personal mileage data

Drivers simply go online or call and input their mileage details. We then calculate the exact personal and business usage split and send you the information you need to more effectively manage your expenditure, usually via a monthly report.

Quality assurance and cost savings through an approved and managed garage network

Our maintenance garage network is closely monitored to ensure service standards are kept at the highest levels. We place large volumes of work with these outlets and are therefore able to negotiate reduced rates, which we pass on to you.

Strictly controlled, pre-authorised expenditure

To keep costs to a minimum, a team of highly qualified technicians authorises work on your vehicles, ensuring that prices quoted by service outlets are acceptable and that work complies with specified manufacturer ICME times.

A specialist tyre team controls replacements and repairs to ensure best value without compromising safety. Where possible, mobile fitters carry out repairs and replacements at convenient locations, helping keep delays and downtime to a minimum.

Added benefits for drivers

To make life easier for your drivers, they simply go online or call our Driver Contact Centre, and our advisors will:

- Book the vehicle in on a day mutually agreed
- Arrange for their vehicle to be collected and returned free of charge
- Ensure that the vehicle is washed and vacuumed
- Deal with any breakdown situations
- Book rental vehicles for them (under the terms of your policy)
